

A Word of Prophecy – FCFTucson
January 1, 2021

Two, zero, two, one (2021) is here and it has begun. And despite what it may look like; and in spite of what others, even some of my people have said... My Body, My Church is not shrinking, nor shriveling, and surely I say My Church isn't dead. She isn't caving and she's not backing down...

No, My Church is alive, and strong, and growing in the world, in this nation, and ye even in your town. And there is nothing that was meant for evil that the Lord your God, won't turn around.

There are no walls that have been built that will keep Me out. No walls too strong that they won't fall at the faith-filled shout. And where the kingdom of darkness has built towers of isolation and despair; fortresses of fear, hostels of hostility, anger, n' rage, and even built bunkers of infirmity these shall all fall... As My light and My word go forth and touch each one through your prayers and your deeds and your willingness to follow My lead they shall fall.

But My Kingdom, says the Lord, is strong and it is sound; it is a safe haven, a safe place, where My Word and Spirit resounds. Yes, the kingdom of darkness through evil spirits and the people they have deceived have sought to erode and destroy and tear down the walls of My House. But they will not succeed. They may huff and puff and cause some in the walls to quiver and shake, but the walls of My Kingdom remain intact no matter what efforts they make.

For Mine is an eternal Kingdom & an Everlasting Church, founded, grounded, and built on the living stone, Jesus the Christ, the Chief cornerstone in whom you've put your faith and been found.

So rise up in faith, cast fear aside. Rise up and rejoice in hope and in health for the world only sees, the darkness of despair and disease. Rise up in LOVE for love always wins, and take captive those thoughts & places in your hearts where anger attempts to burrow within.

Rise up and be My Church in this hour. Let your light burn with Holy Ghost fire. Don't just come and go living as you have before; But be ready and look for my Glory to show.

So Rise up and Join in, be my Church as this new years begins. Not just in name, but in walking out by design. Following my lead and walking in time.

I want you walk and live even closer to Me, for I so dearly want more people to see: My Love, My Grace, My Mercy, My Face. So, rise up run... don't quit in this race. Rise up and BE MY CHURCH in this PLACE!
